When winemaker Chuck Carlson isn't prowling the vineyards or racking his barrels, he can often be found sailing across the open waters, a longtime hobby that has earned him the nickname "Calypso."

He now invites you into his world with the Calypso Wine Club, which includes twice-yearly shipments of new Carlson Wines releases with exclusive member savings. Shipments also include winemaker's notes and a personal recipe, and who knows, he might even tell you a big fish tale along the way.
